

Going to the Super Market

Mom and baby Carol are going to the Super market. They always shop on Saturday for the next week's groceries.

Baby Carol is looking at good things to eat that mother may buy. She is looking at baked goods.

"Carol", says mom, "Come away from all of those sweets, we need to buy real food for the week. "Yes mom", says Carol, as she pushes the cart over to where mother is standing.

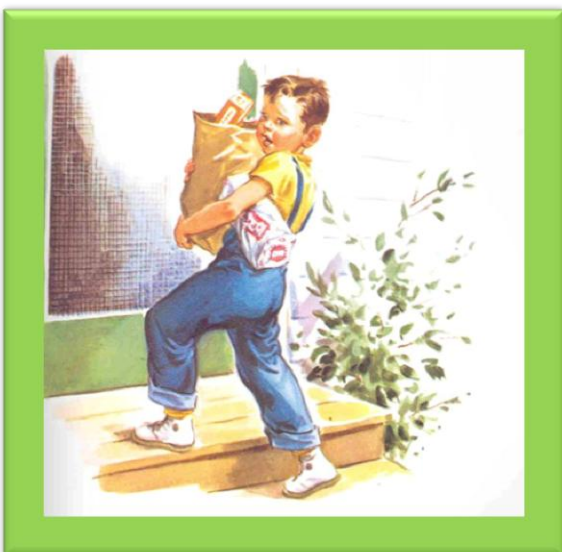

Mother squeezed the fruits and vegetables to see if they are ripe. "These are just right for our dinner meals this week", says mother. "What do you think Carol"? says mother. "Yes mother, I like fruits and vegetables and so does Mr. Teddy bear", says baby Carol.

Timmy and Patty came to the super market to help mother with the groceries. They wanted to make sure she brought home something good that they wanted to eat.

Timmy being a good son and brother offered to help mother bring the groceries into the house. Timmy likes to help out around the house. He has several chores that he must complete each day.
